AN

INDEX

For the Firſt Volume.

A.

ABaris, the Hyperborean, a Highlander, p. 235
Accents, Greek, a Letter concerning them, 211
An Act of the Roman Senate explained, 36
Ages of men, why named from four metals, 339
Agriculture, its beginning in Greece, 333
Allegory, a ridiculous one, 461
Ἄλς χεόνιη, whence ſo called, 234
Altars of the Druids, 229
Amaſtris, her cruel and laſcivious character, 37
Antiquitates Trituræ & Fulloniæ ; an account of that book, 150
Antiquitates Aſiaticæ ; an extract of that book, 437

Apathy of the Stoicks applied to Chriſt, the Apoſtles, and the Gnoſticks, 464
Ἀπάτως & Ἀμώτως, in what ſenſe uſed by the ancients, 37
Appian, a paſſage in his Punics corrected. 33
Architecture, the origin of it in Europe, 323
Argonauts, the time of their Expedition, 274
Arts, liberal and manual, their origin, 327
Arthur's Oven, a Druid's houſe, 233
Aſtronomy, its origin, 283. 329
Athanaſian Creed, critical hiſtory of it; an account of that book, 39
——when and by whom compoſed, 42
——the Commiſſioners in 1689 agreed to impoſe it, 45
Aurum Toloſanum, the origin of it, 20

B.

BArbeyrac, Mr. John; an Extract of his Traitè de la Morale des Peres, 453
Bards, a religious Order among the Gauls, 23 their character, 24
a pleaſant ſtory of one, ib.
Barnes, Dr. Joſhua, a miſtake of his, 31
Belenus, the Druids name for Apollo, Phœbus, or the Sun, 222
Belten, or Bealteine, the meaning and origin of that word, ib.
Bernoulli, Mr. John, egregious miſtakes of his, 357 & ſeq.
Bible, two texts of it wrong tranſlated, 440. 449
Βουστροφηδὸν, an ancient way of writing, by whom uſed. 443

C. Cad-

C.

CAdmus, about what time he came into Greece, 289
Carnea, the probable origin of that feſtival, and of its name, 224
Carns, what, and for what uſe deſigned, 222
Carpenters, the firſt in Europe, 331
Carthage, when built and deſtroyed, 273
Chiſhull, Mr. Edmund, his Antiquitates Aſiaticæ, 437
Chriſt, why born of a Virgin, 457 Chronology, an abſtract of Sir I. Newton's, 253 its origin, and the ancient writers of it, 257
Cicero, a paſſage in him corrected, 451
Cities, Towns, &c. their origin in Europe, 323
Clement of Alexandria, his morals, 461
Colures, their poſition in the primitive ſphere, 278
Communication of motion; Remarks on a diſcourſe concerning it, 357
Conſules ſuffecti, of the year of Rome 881, 36
Copernican ſyſtem, taught by the greateſt and moſt ancient Philoſophers, 192 Courayer, F. Le, an Extract of his Defence of his Diſſertation, 135. 173 his Diploma as Doctor of Divinity, 485
St. Criſpin, and St. Criſpina, where they lived, and whence they came, 211
Cuſtoms, odd ones in the Highlands, 236
Cyaxeres, the ſame with Ahaſuerus, 317
Cyrus, who was his immediate Predeceſſor, 316

D.

DAncing, its origin, 331

Deſign, a Letter concerning the art or ſcience of it, 93
Διαυλος, the etymology of that word, and why applied to the double Stadium, 14
Diploma. F. Le Courayer's, 485
Dionyſius Halicarnaſſenſis, an excellent Edition of his book de ſtructura orationis, 242
Divination, the methods of it uſed by the Gauls, 18
Druids, their antiquity, privileges and maxims, 25 their pretences to learning, 27
two notable inſtances of their craft, 223. 231 their temples and altars, 228, 229 their houſes, 232
Druidiſm, when aboliſhed, 28
Dwarfy Stone, very remarkable, 233

E.

THE Earth, when and by what degrees firſt peopled, 321
Eleuſinia ſacra, in honour of whom, and where inſtituted, 348 Empire, the time of the riſe and fall of the Egyptian, 303
Aſſyrian, 307
Babylonian and Median, 313
Medo-Perſian, 316
Equinox, its preceſſion, 279
when and by whom firſt diſcovered, 281
Eraſmus, the Legend of that Saint, 209
Eſtabliſhment (Civil) of Religion vindicated: an abſtract of that book, 119
Eſther, not the ſame with Amaſtris, 37
Eſus, a Gallic Deity, who he was, 107
Euripides, the common reading of a paſſage in him defended, 31

F.

FAtal Stone, its Hiſtory, 231
Feverſham, an account of the Hiſtory and Antiquities of the Abbey and Church of that place, 200
Fontenelle, Mr. his Elogy of Sir I. Newton, 52
Miſtakes of his corrected, 54, 56, 58, 59, 63, 69, 70, 72
Fluxions, when, and by whom firſt invented, 56
Fraternity, Letters of, what they were, and of what uſe, 208

G.

GAmes, Olympic, when and on what occaſion inſtituted, 348
Iſthmian, ibid.
Gauls, whence they came, 5
their Manners and Cuſtoms, ibid.
paſſionate lovers of Liberty, 7 of a martial Genius and intrepid Courage, 8 their manner of begging Quarter, 9 civil and courteous to Strangers, ibid.
very abſtemious and ſober, ibid.
had no Temples, Altars, Statues nor Images of any God, 15 parallel between ſome of their Principles and thoſe of the Jews, 16
Geography, its riſe, 332
Geometry, its riſe, ibid.
Glaſs-windows, painted, their original, 201
Gods, Heathen, their original, and the meaning of their ſymbols, 336, 344
Grannus, Apollo, why ſo called, 225
Gravitation, an eaſy and natural Account of its effects on the Planets, 194

H.

HEraclides, the time of their return fixed, 265
Hercules Ogmius, what Deity he was, 219
Heſiod, about what time he lived, 283
Homer when he flouriſhed, 339
Hippocrates, when he flouriſhed, 275
Horace, the common reading of four Paſſages in him defended, 35, 416, 418, 448 corrected in three places, 413, 414, 415 an account of a new edition and tranſlation of his Poems, 406
a Letter concerning his Character, 420
Houſes, the firſt in Europe, 323
Human Underſtanding, an Abſtract of the Eſſay of it, 373
Hurlers, Stone-henge, &c. Druidical Temples, 229

I.

JAcob's Stone, or Fatal Stone, its Hiſtory, 231
Idolatry, its Origin and Progreſs, 333, 341 of the Heathens, juſtified by St. Clement, 465 Inſcription, the Sigæan, 439 on the Statue of Jupiter Urius, 450 one in Gruter, explained, 30
Iræneus, his Morals, 457
Iſaeus, two Paſſages in that Author corrected, 30
Iſidore of Sevil, a Word in him corrected,
Iſthmian Games, on what account inſtituted, 348
Jupiter Urius, who, 450

Ju-

Juſtin Martyr, particulars relating to his Morals, 456 his opinion of Marriage, 457

K.

Καθάρματα, what ſo called, 21
Key, why put into the hands of ſeveral Heathen Deities, and of God himſelf in the Scriptures, 32
Κληδοῦχος, the epithet of Diana and ſeveral other Deities, ibid.
Knights Fees, how many in England at the Conqueſt, 205 how many the Religious Houſes had got into their hands in K. H. VIII. time, ibid.

L.

Letters, their origin, 328
when brought into Greece, 289
when introduced among the Northern Nations of Europe, 259 not known in Egypt till David's time, 328
Letters of Fraternity, what, and of what Uſe, 208
A Letter from Oxford concerning the Greek Accents, 211 from F. le Courayer to the Univerſity of Oxford, 486 from Mr. Buckley, concerning a new edition of Thuanus, 158 from Mr. Hughes, concerning the Character of Horace and his Works, 420 from the E. of Shaftesbury, concerning the art or Science of Deſign, 101 Liberty, the effects of it upon arts and ſciences, 101

Lucan, an acconnt of a new edition of his Pharſalia, 395 defended from the charge of impiety and prophaneneſs, 399 a Paſſage in him corrected, 409
a very beautiful Paſſage, 401
an abſtract of his Life, 402
Lucian, a Paſſage of that Author corrected, 33
Lycurgus, when he flouriſhed, 268

M.

MArkland, Mr. Jeremy, his edition of Statius his Silvæ, 479 Marriage, Juſtin Martyr's opinion of it, 457 ſecond, condemned by Athenagoras, 458
by St. Jerom, 459
by Tertullian, 467
ſecond, forbid to Eccleſiaſtics, 459 of Laics ſtigmatized, ibid.
Martial, illuſtrated, 155, 156, 440
Maſquerades, their original, 110
Metals, the invention and fabrication of them, 330
Miſletoe, held in great eſteem by the Gauls, 27 its virtues, and the ceremonies uſed in gathering it, ibid.
Morals of the Fathers, 454
Muſick, its origin, 331
Muzzling the Oxen and Slaves, Methods uſed for that Purpoſe by the Ancients, 153

N.

NAbonaſſar, whence he took his year, 284
Nagg's-head-Ordination, a Fable, 145
Navigation, its origin, 329

Newton, Sir Iſaac, an account of his Optical Lectures, 46 of his Syſtem of the world, 190 an Abſtract of his Chronology, 253 a Panegyric on him by Mr. Fontenelle, 52
Nuncius, not an Envoy or Ambaſſador, &c. but only a Courier, 13

O

OBelisks, Celtic, of a prodigious bulk, 230
Ogmius, Hercules, who, and whence ſo called, 219
Olympic Games, where, and on what occaſion inſtituted, 348
Optical Lectures by Sir I. Newton: an account of that book, 46
Oracles, the firſt, 242
Ordinations, Engliſh, an extract of the defence of the diſſertation on their validity, 137, 173
Orpheus, two Paſſages in his Argonautica corrected, 34
Oyſter-Fiſhery, a pleaſant Cuſtom relating to that at Feverſham, 206
Oven, Arthur's, a Druid's houſe, 233
Ovum Anguinum, curious particulars relating to it, 28

P.

PAinted-Glaſswindows, their origin, 201
A Panegyric on Sir I. Newton, 52
Pleaſures, the moſt natural and innocent condemned by the Fathers, 460
Ploſtellum Pœnicum —deſcribed, 153
Politics of the Hebrides, very ſingular, 235
Polybius, a Paſſage in him corrected, 33

R.

REaping, an ingenious contrivance of the Gauls for that purpoſe, 151
Religion des Gaulois, an extract of that book, 1, 107
Religion, in what it primitively conſiſted, 333
Robin's, Mr. Benj. his Remarks on a Diſcourſe of the Communication of Motion, 337
Rocking Stones, the Mechaniſm and Deſign of them, 231

S.

SAcrifices, human, how, and why offered by the Gauls, 20
the origin of them, 22 that any were ever offered denied by ſome, and why, 22
Saliſators, a ſort of Celtic Diviners, 15
Samothracian Myſteries, in honour of whom inſtituted, 348
Sanadon, an account of his edition and tranſlation of Horace,
Sanctuaries, the privileges and abuſes of them, 207
Sea-fight, the oldeſt in ſtory, 297
Series, infinite, the firſt invention of them, 54
Serpents, worſhipped by the ancients, 113
Seſoſtris, the time of his return into Egypt, 275
the ſame with Seſac, ibid.
and alſo with Bacchus and Oſiris, 286
Sigæan Inſcription, 435
Silius Italicus, a Paſſage in him illuſtrated, 33

Smiths, the first in Europe, 331
Socrates, when he died, 268
Solon, when he flourished, 301
Sophocles, a Passage in him corrected, 33
Sortes Apostolicæ, how cast, 18
Σωτὴρ, a Title given to the Successors of Alexander, 449 why St. Paul is so strenuous in asserting it to J. Christ, ibid.
Sphere, by whom, and when invented, 278
Statius, a new edition of his Silvæ, 479
Story, an odd one, 457
Stonehenge, Hurlers, &c. Druidical Temples, 229
Sub Ascia dedicare, Conjectures about that Ceremony, 116
Surveying, its rise, 332
Sylphs, Tutelar Deities among the Gauls, 114
Syracuse, when built, 298
System of the World, by Sir I. Newton; an account of it, 190
Copernican the oldest, 192

T.

TAcitus, an account of the Translations of his Annals, 469
Temples of the Druids, 298
Tertullian, his Morals, 465
Threshing, the several methods of it used by the ancients, 151
Thuanus, a Letter about a new Edition of his History, 158 two material Passages not to be found in the printed Copies, 162
Toland, Mr. John, a Collection of Pieces written by him, 217

6 G Marten 424459 L.C-G 1950-51

Toleration, Eccleſiaſtical, an excellent Reflection relating to it, 456
Towns, Cities, &c. their origin in Europe, 325
Tranſlations, good ones very uſeful, 469 of the Pharſalia, 404
of the Ode Otium Divos, 424
Tranſlator, the qualifications required in one, 470
Tribula deſcribed, 152
Triremes, when firſt built by the Greeks, 297
Troy, the time of its Deſtruction, 272
Tſchirnhaus a vain Plagiary, 51

U.

UPton, Mr. James, an account of his Edition of Dionyſ. Halic. de Struct. Orat. 242
Urine, how collected by the Fullers of Rome, 155 good againſt the Gout, 156

V.

VElleius Paterculus, an obſcure Paſſage in him explained, 35
Venus, a remarkable ceremony in honour of her, 112
Virgil, a Paſſage of his Æneid illuſtrated, 227 two others corrected, 481, 482
another defended, 482

W.

WAR, firſt Meſſenian, when it ended, 303
Weſſeling, Petri, obſervationes variæ, an Extract of them, 29

The End of the First Volume.